Team, Comprising Six Men,
Will Leave for Oakland
This Evening

"Glendale's Own" company, California National Guard, is again to the fore.

Captain Watson, commanding officer, determined that Glendale should be represented at the state rifle competition of the National Guard to be held June 24 to June 29 on the State rifle range, Leona Heights, Oakland. This an important affair, for the winners in this contest will constitute the state team which will be sent to Camp Perry, O., next September to participate in the national team match.

The men must leave Glendale tonight, in order to reach Oakland in time for the opening of the camp tomorrow, and they had to have a physical examination before they went.

This fact did not daunt their commander, however. Like Miles Standish, the doughty captain of early Colonial days, Captain Watson believes "if you want a thing well done, you should do it yourself, you must not leave it to others"; therefore, ignoring the lateness of the hour. It was then 10 o'clock, p. m., he called Dr. Gerhardt Kaemmerling, examining physician for the Guard, and asked him to come down to this office.

Dr. Kaemmerling, of course, is as proud of "Glendale's Own" as their captain (or, indeed, any other Glendale resident), so he naturally acceded to the request. The men say the doctor did not slight anything because it was late, it was some strenuous examination; but they all passed it, and tonight they will journey to Oakland, backed by the confidence of their friends, as well as their own thorough rifle practice. As they are all good shots it is not at all improbable that Glendale may be represented on the national team.

The six members of Glendale's team, were fitted out last night at headquarters here with full field equipment: Two blankets, one bed-sack, one United States rifle, with oiler and thong case, complete; 1 gun sling, one frint sight cover, one haversack, one pocket carrier, one cartridge belt, one canteen, one spoon, cup, fork, one pouch for first aid packet, one first aid packet, one cleaning rod and case, and one screw driver.

CARL SEITTER AND HIS BRIDE RECEIVE AN OVATION AT CHURCH

Carl C. Seitter, who has been appointed religious educational director of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was in attendance on the quarterly conference meeting held last night accompanied by his bride, who received quite an ovation. They are very popular with the young people, who, as young folks will, took advantage of the occasion to leave the meeting and break into the bridal nest of the happy pair in the Wilson apartments on Louise street. There they effected a variety of changes in the arrangement of household belongings, shoving the ice box into the place of the victrola and otherwise altering the aspect of the home. They carried with them refreshments of ice cream and cake and were on hand to receive Mr. and Mrs. Seitter on their return from the session, and give them a hearty reception with a wedding gift from the Epworth League of an electric iron.

Mr. Seitter has been appointed by the various churches of the city superintendent of the Bible Vacation school and has the whole matter in charge with representatives from other churches. He is to receive this afternoon from the University of California his degree of bachelor of arts.

Mrs. A. L. Shipley and son, of Los Angeles, are guests today of Mrs. Charles Glover of Myrtle street, and will be her dinner guests this evening, when they will be joined by Mr. Shipley.

BURBANK PREPARED TO ENTERTAIN A LARGE CROWD AT RODEO

Surpassing in mass production anything of the kind ever attempted on the Pacific coast, California's Greatest Spectacle, to be held at Burbank, July 2, 3 and 4, will have an attendance of 150,000 persons, according to reports reaching the Burbank Memorial association.

Orders have been issued sending federal troops, bluejackets and four battalions of the National Guard to Burbank for the big military pageant, which will form a part of the program. Governor Stephens and Adjutant General Borree will review the troops.

Secretaries of the chambers of commerce throughout Southern California will be delivered at the grounds by aeroplanes, this being the first time in history that this has been done.

There will be an air carnival, in which 350 planes will participate. This will include an air battle, the transfer of passengers from one plane to another, parachute drops and acrobatic stunts of all kinds.

Following the air stunting and patriotic parade of planes the big Rodeo, in which 500 of the most daring riders of the world, will compete for $10,000 in cash prizes.

WHEN WILL PRICE OF MILK IN GLENDALE BE LOWERED?

The end is not yet for the milk profiteers. There is simply no rest for the wicked. A new inquiry into their affairs by the county grand jury and the district attorney's office has been begun; this time it concerns the sanitary conditions of the fourteen creameries and dairies indicted, and also the quality and purity of the milk. It is charged that the milk sold at 16 cents a quart is partly skimmed or partly powdered.

Deputy District Attorney Louis M. Powell will supervise this investigation.

The indictment against the milk combine was voted unanimously in five minutes. The eighteen individuals indicted with the fourteen corporations on Tuesday, will appear before Judge Sidney Reeves on July 2, for arraignment. Their bail was fixed at $1000 in each case, and the judge ordered that bench warrants be issued.

Jail sentences for the indicted milk profiteers will be demanded by the prosecution, it is said, when the cases come up for trial. The law provides a maximum penalty of $5000 fine and a year in the county jail for each individual found guilty of the violation of the Cartwright anti-trust law.

The particular aggravation of the offense of the defendants and the fact that any sum paid by them in punishment would be paid from funds previously obtained through the exploitation of the children of the poor, will be cited by the prosecution as arguments for the extreme jail sentence. District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine will personally head the prosecution.

They Starved Children
It is said that a feature of the trial will be the introduction of testimony showing that while these opulent, arrogant milk dealers were waxing fat on their ill-gotten gains, children were sickening and dying of malnutrition because their parents had not the price asked by these conscienceless profiteers.

In refutation of statements by a Glendale dairyman that the high price of feed warranted the present milk price, a prominent Glendale resident stated yesterday that he had just bought a carload of alfalfa for $13 a ton; last year at this time he paid $35 a ton.

Arrests Today

Arrests today for violation of traffic ordinances fell below par. The following will appear before Judge Lowe tomorrow under the specified charges: C. S. Hughes, 603 Crescent street, Burbank, exceeding speed limit; Pun De Churig, 417 North Los Angeles street, Los Angeles, exceeding speed limit; J. W. Coleman, 1613 Meadow street, Los Angeles, cut out open.

GRAND VIEW IS COMING STRONG

Many New Residences Being Erected—Acre Sites Are Selling Rapidly

When, a few months ago, W. L. Truitt of 317 West Doran street, bought twenty acres in the Grand View district, cornering on Vine avenue and Sixth street, for subdivision, and E. H. Learned, whose ten acres just east of this, bordering on Sixth, joined him in the project, they started what may eventually be a very beautiful residence district, high up on a sloping mesa overlooking the San Fernando valley. Mr. Truitt is now building a large and costly residence on his tract and we understand it is sold. Mr. Learned is building a five-room house to put on the market and yesterday began excavating for the cellar of a ten-room residence which he and his family, also his wife's mother, Mrs. Trask, who recently sold her Los Angeles home, will occupy. The new home is east and south of the present Learned residence.

Four one-acre lots have been sold by Mr. Learned to be built upon, and Mr. Truitt has disposed of several also. This fall, Charles Elspersman, whose six acres are just across Sixth street from Learned's, expects to subdivide. By that time it is expected that the new water distributing mains and laterals which the $30,000 bond issue recently voted by Grand View residents, will be laid, and with plenty of water for all purposes assured, building should be rapid.

Mr. Elspersman, who has lived in Los Angeles and Glendale for more than 30 years, is better satisfied with his present location than with any other he has had and his good wife joins him in this sentiment.

Grand View section has electric lighting of streets and homes, an abundant water supply is assured, factories are springing up and gas service will necessarily be not long delayed. Prospects for a beautiful residence district and busy industrial zone in this favored spot are very bright.

WEDNESDAY CLUB SURPRISE PARTY

The Glendale Wednesday club was entertained yesterday by Mrs. Charles Glover at 416 Myrtle street and had its usual delightful session with a few features not on the regular program. After the cafeteria luncheon and an hour of needlework and chat, Mrs. H. L. Clotworthy and her sister, Miss Clara Ringert, who are leaving the first of July for Denver and for Laramie, their old home, were the recipients of a travel shower. It was a complete surprise to the two ladies and the more enjoyed because so unexpected. They expect to be gone about three months. Ladies present beside the two just mentioned and the hostesses were: Meses. Charles Perkins, Charles Sanders, Jack Hearnshaw, Albert Muhleman, Charles Freshman of Los Angeles, Herbert Reed of Long Beach, William Nash, Frank Hester, G. D. Roach, William Gibson and Clarence Kaighin.

Paul C. Brown is state secretary of the Christian Endeavor Union, and an ex-state president. He is also international superintendent for the Intermediate department of the United Societies of Christian Endeavor. Mr. Brown is a member of the Congregational church.

LITTLE DINNER IN HONOR OF COUSIN

Miss Dorothy Williams of Orange street, entertained at dinner Wednesday night, in honor of her cousin, Miss Margaret Couch of Los Angeles, her table being charmingly decorated with yellow and white roses. Other guests were Miss Grace Crampton and Miss Faye Gould. Following the dinner the girls spent a pleasant evening with music and cards.

REV. C. R. NORTON IS PASTOR EMERITUS OF M. E. CHURCH

Interesting Reports Presented

Held Here

CALL FOR REV. CRIST

Local Church Makes Remarkable Gain During the Past Year

The fourth and final quarterly conference of the year was held at the First Methodist church last evening and was conducted by Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, district superintendent.

Some very interesting reports were presented. One by the Women's Home Missionary Society showed that the organization is almost doubling the offering it made a year ago. Mrs. B. F. Geiger is its president and is naturally much gratified.

Mrs. Charles Starkey, as the official representative of the Ladies' Aid Society, also tendered a wonderful report which revealed the fact that the society has earned over $2000 and its members have made 2300 calls.

No less significant was the pastor's report of a net gain in membership thus far of over 200, bringing the total membership of the church to 964. Dr. Davis remarked that this church is certainly carrying the banner of the district, for no other church has reported any such gain for the year.

Statements relative to financial conditions were equally encouraging and remarkable. Besides paying the centenary fund in full and meeting all current expenses, a number of improvements have been financed.

Present, as usual, was Rev. C. R. Norton, founder of the church, who preached his seventeenth annual sermon at the beginning of this conference year. Last night, on the suggestion of the pastor and by a vote of the conference, Mr. Norton was made pastor emeritus of the church, an honor which he appreciated to the full.

Another item of outstanding interest concerned Robert Kenneth Crist, son of the pastor, who was voted a local preacher's license. He has decided to study for the ministry and will enter college with that view, and in due time will join the conference.

Still another action of importance was the unanimous vote to request Bishop Adna W. Leonard to reappoint Pastor Crist to this church for the coming year and a similar vote to return Dr. W. L. Y. Davis to this district as its superintendent.

Dr. Davis led the prayer meeting which preceded the session, and most of those in attendance accepted his invitation to remain.

PAGEANTS EACH DAY FEATURE OF C. E. CONVENTION

One of the features each day at the state Christian Endeavor convention, which begins here Saturday, will be a pageant each day, given by members of different unions.

Yesterday afternoon, about 40 or 50 of the intermediates of Los Angeles rehearsed at the tabernacle a foreign missionary pageant which they will give at one of the afternoon sessions under the direction of Mrs. Clara Walberg, of the Temple Baptist church. This pageant will be given in the quaint costumes of the people of foreign lands, and promises to be a pretty affair.

Miss Edith McDonald, state intermediate superintendent, of San Francisco, has arrived in Glendale and was an interested spectator of the rehearsal.

PULLIAMS TO ENJOY AUTOMOBILE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and daughter, Myrtle, are leaving by auto July 1 for the north. Their itinerary will take them via Mint canyon to Mammoth, and from that point they will go to Lake Tahoe. When their stay there ends Miss Pulliam will return by train and be the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Allen Legge, Mr. and Mrs. Pulliam will go on to Feather River canyon to be gone for an indefinite time.

LIFE'S SUNSET DAYS ARE FULL OF PEACE

Mrs. Emma Jane Long Enjoying Life's Latter Years in Beautiful Glendale

Living at 352 Patterson avenue with her son and his family, and mightily glad to be in beautiful Glendale, surrounded with all the comforts that heart could wish, is an aged lady whose early life, though a happy one, was in the greatest contrast possible to present conditions. She is Mrs. Emma Jane Long, born Sibley, and she first saw the light of day in a little house on Raccoon creek, near old Fort Harrison, four miles north of Terre Haute, Ind., on the banks of the Wabash. She spent the most of her life in and near Terre Haute. Her second cousin, Harry "Bob" Sibley of 718 South Brand, says she has the true pioneer spirit and well deserves the rest from the arduous labors of the early days when the dauntless pioneers carved the great states of the middle west out of the vast forest reaches. Mrs. Long is living with her son, Major Thomas W. Long, retired. He is the fourth of his generation who took arms for home and native land. Two ancestors, one his great-grandfather, were killed in the revolutionary war, two in the war of 1812, and his father served in the civil war. He was in the Spanish-American war and served both in Cuba and the Philippines. He also got in the late scrap and did his duty bravely over in France until disabled.

Grandma Long will be 79 years old next Tuesday, June 28, and she hopes, to attend the picnic of former residents of Terre Haute, Ind., held on the last Sunday in June of each year, in Sycamore Grove. Mrs. Long said she was the proud possessor of the first piano brought to Terre Haute, and it came all the way from New York.

She well remembers her youthful days along Raccoon creek, when the woods were full of game of all kinds and the lakes fairly covered with wild fowl.

VISITS "SPIDER LADY" AT VENICE

The "Spider Lady" at Venice cannot be vamped, according to the confession of Albert T. Blanford, supervisor of physical training of the local schools, who tried to turn the trick at a recent baseball team picnic held at the beach town.

Reports describing the "Spider Lady" tell of her beautiful features and dreamy eyes, all of which is offset, however, by a myriad of hairy spider's legs ensconcing the fair brow and lending a wicked aspect to an otherwise entrancing face. The "Spider Lady" occupies an exclusive place in one of the concessions on the Venice pier.

Balked in his efforts to attract the attention of this spider person, Blanford tossed the lady a note. She gave no heed to the missive—but the proprietor of the concession did for the secret of the "Spider Lady" had been shown up.

Reese Martin is general secretary of the state Christian Endeavor Union and former president of the Alameda county union. He is an ex-state vice-president and a member of the Methodist church.

RESOLUTION PROVIDES PROFITEERS' PUBLICITY

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Publicity for profiteers under the official sanction of the government by the treasury department is provided in a resolution introduced today in the house by Representative Beck of Wisconsin. The resolution requires the treasury to publish the names of those who made profits in excess of 25 per cent of invested capital during the war.

"It is known that there are over a billion dollars in taxes held back by these same profiteers," says Beck.

LOCAL GUARDSMEN WILL COMPETE IN STATE RIFLE MATCH

"Glendale's Own" National Guard company will have a crack rifle team represented in the state rifle meet, to be held June 24 to June 26 at Leona Heights, Oakland, according to Capt. Thomas D. Watson, commanding officer of the local company, who this morning completed his entry list.

The men composing the team will include Sergt. W. R. Jackson and Privates Anthony L. Miller, Willard Downs, Earl R. Smith and John R. Mildema. Sergeant Jackson, who was captain of the Pasadena company of National Guard before the war, is a hardened veteran on the range having competed in a number of state matches, and as the other members of the team are known to be expert riflemen it is felt that Glendale will surely place in the running.

The object of the state rifle meet is to select a team on the basis of high score to represent California at the National Rifle match to be held on the Camp Perry, O., range at some date in September. Interest is running high in the Glendale Guard company over the meet and plans are being made to send the local rifle team off with a big ovation.

HEMENWAYS ARE TO MAKE AUTO TRIP TO SEATTLE

W. F. Hemenway of the firm of Donner, Hemenway & Burn, accompanied by Mrs. Hemenway, is leaving Sunday for Seattle in his new Oldsmobile. Six years ago they made the same trip in a Ford and Mr. Hemenway says when he gets back he will be in a position to give pointers on the two machines.

Their itinerary will take them to Cottage Grove, Ore., where Mr. Hemenway's father and brother live, and to Portland, where their son, M. C. Hemenway, resides. Another son, R. V. Hemenway, resides in Seattle.

Their route will be via Santa Barbara, San Francisco and the Sacramento valley, and they expect to be away about six weeks.

SWIMMING POOL SENTIMENT STRONG

Stratamers emblazoned with "Vote the Swimming Pool Bonds" are to be distributed for display throughout the city as a result of arrangements made by the publicity committee, active in the swimming pool campaign, who report that the number of signed cards, pledging Glendale citizens to vote the bonds, has reached a 700 mark.

The southwestern section of the city which has been thoroughly canvassed is almost unanimous in support of the swimming pool project, according to L. T. Rowley, who has been boosting the campaign in that district.

HONORS NIECE WITH A PARTY

A very pretty dancing party was given last evening by Col. and Mrs. Thos. Thornton at their beautiful home on Brand boulevard, in honor of Miss Jessie Thornton. A yellow color scheme was carried out in the flowers that embellished the reception room and the candles that shed their soft radiance upon the scene.

The guest list included Messrs. and Meses. John Allen Legge, Sid Simon, Minor Moore; Meses Waunita Emery, Myrtle Pulliam, Lorraine and Barbara Mitchell, Elizabeth Smith, Alice Gray Beach and her guest, Miss Smith from Montana; Margaret, Myrtle and Edith Thornton, and Dora Willis, of Los Angeles; Owen Emery, Milton Grumbeling, Claud Peters, Harold McElroy, Emil Kiefer, John Smalley, Harry Webb, Lou Guernsey, Randolph George, of Pasadena, Lee Thornton, and Mr. Reed, of Los Angeles.

PARKING FACILITIES ARE AFFORDED BY LOCAL SCHOOL GROUNDS

It is probable that the Intermediate school grounds may be used as an auto camp and parking place during the Christian Endeavor convention.

This plan is subject to the approval of the Glendale city school trustees. The matter will be presented to them at their meeting this evening. L. T. Rowley conceived the idea, realizing that the distance from the Verdugo park to the auditorium is a long one, especially for those attending evening sessions. The idea appealed the more to Mr. Rowley in view of the fact that meals will be served at the cafeteria at the Intermediate school, which would be another advantage to campers or to those who wished to park there.

Mr. Rowley conferred with Superintendent R. D. White and City Manager Watson, and as they thought well of the idea, he will ask the approval of the trustees this evening.

LOS ANGELES TOURIST MISSING THREE DAYS

ESTES PARK, June 23.—No trace had been found early today of H. F. Taggett, a Los Angeles tourist, who has been missing since Tuesday morning. Searching parties are scouring the rocks and chasms in the vicinity of Long's Peak, which Taggett had planned to explore. Taggett is described as being between 40 and 45 years of age and has been here for about a week.

SCHOOL BOARD'S FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

For the purpose of deciding upon teacher's salaries for the coming year and taking action on other financial matters the city school board will meet this evening with Superintendent Richardson D. White at his office in the Intermediate school. This will be the last important meeting the school board will have before July 5 when new members will take office.

STORES IN NOBLE BLOCK LEASED

The stores in the Noble block on the corner of West Broadway and Orange street are fast nearing completion. The design as prepared by Architect Alfred Priest calls for a handsome tiled entrance, with tiles below the windows which are set in copper. The larger corner store, 37 by 75, is beautifully light and has a double entrance. One of the inside stores has already been leased by a Mr. Knecht of Chicago for a dairy luncheon. A feature of his equipment will be a doughnut machine which automatically does its work. As Mr. Noble tells the story, the flour is put in at one end and the doughnuts come out the other end without the touch of a human hand. He is to take possession about July 1.

Is an American Citizen

Editor Glendale Press—"Owing to the fact that your news editor did not get on to the information regarding my naturalization last week as a citizen of the great United States, I find that following a meeting in the First Methodist church, C. W. Ingledue in paying his compliments to the Good Government League of Glendale, stated that one of the most prominent contributors was not a citizen of the United States. I have spoken to Mr. Ingledue over the phone and he admits that he had me in mind and that he did not know of my change in citizenship.

"I am very proud to announce to you and to all who may be interested that I am an American citizen and opposed to domination by any church to religious legislation and to all of those things which are contrary to the constitution which I have sworn to uphold.

"In the course of the conversation Mr. Ingledue mentioned the fact that it was a shame that I and those interested in this great principle had to associate ourselves with thugs and saloon keepers. I am not aware of the fact that I have done so and if by any chance the saloon keeper agrees with me on some matters, I suppose that the reflection is not, at least, upon myself.

"In regard to the political matter as I see it now, there has been too much 'pussy-footing,' there have been too many statements that cannot be proved, and this letter, which I trust you will find space for, is at least to deny what was said in the Methodist church on Sunday night in regard to me. Cordially yours,

HENRY R. HARROWER.

Announces Candidacy

To the Fellow Citizens of the city of Glendale:

As I am one of the candidates for the position of city clerk at the coming election, Tuesday, June 28, I wish to make the following announcement through the columns of the Press. I have been a resident and property holder for several years in your city, but owing to being connected with business firms out of town I have not had the pleasure of meeting many of the voters, but trust you will all turn out and cast a vote for your choice on the ticket. Any votes that may come my way will be appreciated, and should I be the fortunate candidate

Facts of the Case

Glendale, June 22, 1921.
Editor Glendale Press—In a full page advertisement sponsored by the "Glendale Better Council Campaign Committee," in your issue of June 21, 1921, there appeared the following article:

"We oppose the election of Dwight W. Stephenson for many reasons. For instance, he quietly introduced, and after hundreds of citizens had objected, continued to justify, a proposed ordinance which would have extended the cemetery several blocks up one of our finest residence avenues and immediately across the street from school grounds and private homes, notwithstanding the patent fact that there is ample space for expansion in another direction. He tolerates, if not encourages, nepotism in the public service. Nepotism has a most devitalizing effect upon the efficiency of public service."

As I have stated on several occasions, I am a firm believer in the right of every citizen to criticize the official acts of any public official. I also believe in the right of every citizen to express his or her opinion as to the qualifications of any candidate for public office. One may go so far as to call a candidate unpleasant names if they so desire, provided one stays within the bounds of decency. For myself, I do not believe that calling names gets anyone very far.

I further believe that every citizen has the right to state facts relative to the record of any public official or candidate for office; but I do believe that in justice and fair play, facts and not fabrications should be stated. I therefore desire to state the FACTS relative to the proposed cemetery ordinance above referred to.

the methods employed by said organization are fair or tend toward better politics.

Yours for fair play,
DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON.

Let the Press Advertising Columns solve your problems.

"I have just heard of a woman who went to a hotel unaccompanied and discovered that the acoustic properties of her room were such that every time she spoke aloud there was an echo. She then made a bold attempt to get in a last word, and in so doing talked herself to death."

On May 5, 1921, the ordinance referred to was introduced at a regular meeting of the board, under the head of new business, under which head all new ordinances are introduced. Under the rules, this ordinance, like all others, was laid over for one week. The introduction was noted in the minutes of the board and a copy of the minutes published in both of our local papers. At the next regular meeting of the board, a protest was made to the adoption of said ordinance by some of our citizens and the board was requested to postpone further action upon the ordinance. At my suggestion, and upon motion of Trustee Lapham, action was postponed until May 26, 1921, all trustees present voting "aye."

On May 26, 1921, "a protest signed by 766 residents of the southern portion of the city was presented to the board against granting any permit for cemetery purposes in the neighborhood represented by the signers. Those presenting the petition desired that it be presented and filed and that in event of any action being taken in the future as to the revival of a movement to establish a cemetery, as in the case of the ordinance recently withdrawn, the protestants be notified. Petition was ordered to be filed with the understanding that if the matter is again brought up before the board for consideration, the signers of the petition will be notified through Mrs. Bacon." (Quoted from the official minutes of May 26, 1921.)

Shortly after the last mentioned action of the board, a meeting was held in the southern section of our city and the cemetery question was again brought up for discussion. I was asked to review the action of the board relative to the same, and I stated substantially as above set forth, adding further, that so far as I was concerned the matter was at an end and would not be again revived. The gentleman who is secretary of the Glendale Better Council Campaign Committee, as well as others who are now members of said organization, were present when I made the statement last above mentioned, so I am forced to believe that the facts were so garbled in the article printed by said organization and above fully set forth, for political purposes only.

I respectfully request all my fellow citizens to compare the record as I have stated it, and if in doubt as to the correctness thereof, to examine the official records of the city, with the statement published by the Glendale Better Council Campaign Committee, and decide for themselves whether

EX-SERVICE MEN'S CLUB

ENDORSE

FOR COUNCIL

This club, composed of ex-service men, was formed at the time of the last municipal election in this city for the purpose of obtaining representation on the Board of Trustees. Mr. Dwight W. Stephenson was selected by them as their candidate. The people of Glendale, recognizing his ability and the justice of their request, placed him in office with the LARGEST NUMBER OF VOTES given to any of the candidates.

During his tenure of office he HAS PROVED that the people of Glendale made no mistake. By unanimous vote of his colleagues he was elevated to the position of President of the Board and has presided over their deliberations with dignity and fairness during the most progressive period in our city's history.

His record is one of which both he and the city may well be proud.

The recent UNFAIR CRITICISMS of Mr. Stephenson and the UNWARRANTED AND MALICIOUS ATTACK on our comrade, Dru Nicoles, who is supporting our candidate, emanate from a small, self-centered group, actuated by personal animosity and selfish motives.

Your Fairness Will Return Dwight W. Stephenson to the City Council on June 28

A CHALLENGE!!!

To the Good Government League--

Vote for Independent Candidates

Is it not a fact that the president of your organization is the "wire chief" of the local Telephone Trust?

Is it not a fact that your vice president is the manager of the local Gas Company?

Is it not a fact that your financial secretary is the local superintendent of the Gas Trust?

Do you expect the people to believe that your favorite candidates, Stephenson and Lapham, (the railroad employe) will protest for the people against oppressive public utility rates? If so what will become of your jobs?

Is it not a fact that Stephenson attempted to justify the graveyard extension ordinance?

IS IT NOT A FACT THAT NEPOTISM EXISTS IN OUR PRESENT CITY GOVERNMENT?

To The Municipal League

We challenge your candidates to pledge themselves that they will vote AGAINST a Sunday Closing Ordinance if introduced.

What about it KIRK?

What about it MUHLEMAN?

What about it YARICK?

What about it WALKER?

What about it Mrs. BARTLETT?

You say there is no Sunday Closing issue.

THE GLENDALE BETTER COUNCIL CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THE FOLLOWING CANDIDATES:

WALTER E. ANDERSON, 410 West Los Feliz; age 50 years; resided in Glendale 15 years; garage and auto service business. A substantial, conservative, successful business man and a large taxpayer. He will be interested in economy and efficiency. He is a practical mechanical engineer and his knowledge as such will be of great service to the city. He will bring to the Board a long and successful business experience—a quality now needed in our city government.

S. A. DAVIS, 118 West Colorado; age 46 years; resided in Glendale 9 years; real estate and investments; formerly in feed and fuel business. He has had an active, honorable and successful business career in our midst and he is a man of sane, independent judgment. He is prepared to give a great deal of time and attention to the city's affairs.

C. E. KIMLIN, 219 North Isabel; age 40 years; resided in Glendale 8 years. He is business manager of our most famous institution, the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, known the country over. He is a man of great popularity because of his great ability and never-failing courtesy. He has had 20 years of active and successful business experience. He has been actively interested in civic betterment and humanitarian movements.

WILLIAM C. MABRY, 115 East Acacia avenue; age 49 years; resided in Glendale approximately 9 years. After his graduation from medical college he served his country in four campaigns: Spanish-American War; Chinese Boxer Expedition; Philippine Insurrection, and the World War. Throughout many years of army service and in civil life he has continuously occupied administrative and executive positions of great responsibility. During his residence in this city he was city health officer of Tropic during three administrations and was, for three or four years, president of the Tropic Chamber of Commerce. He also served as superintendent of the Playgrounds Association and installed the Tropic playgrounds. He has been closely identified with every public improvement, including the paving and lighting of Brand boulevard and the acquisition of the water system. Dr. Mabry is a highly educated man and has had unusual training and experience in the field of sanitation, as this was one of his special duties during the many years he served in the army. His knowledge and experience in the field of sanitation alone will not only protect the health of the City of Glendale in the event of the improvement of our water supply and the installation of a sewage disposal plant, but will save the taxpayers thousands if not hundreds of thousands of dollars. Dr. Mabry is a specialist and is not engaged in general practice. As a physician he thoroughly believes in medical freedom under the law. That is, he believes in the right of any individual to choose any method of healing he may desire. During the last nine months he has been in the service as Acting Assistant Surgeon, U. S. Public Health Service, in care of disabled veterans of the World War. All of the disabled veterans under his charge at Thornycroft warmly commend him.

SPENCER ROBINSON, 1234 East Windsor; age 52 years; resided in Glendale 14 years; real estate business. He is a substantial business man, having considerable property in Glendale, and his course as City Trustee has met with the approval of the City of Glendale. He is in a position to give his time and attention to the city's interests.

THE DOLLARS THAT NEVER EXISTED

A business man recently remarked that "the chief obstacle which impedes the resumption of business is the mental effect of the loss of money which nobody ever had." He hits directly at a condition which is more or less universal. Many a merchant grieves over his losses, arguing that his stock of goods which was worth $50,000 two years ago is now worth only $25,000, yet he has just as much goods as ever. As a matter of fact he is only poor in mind, not goods. Many a workingman a year or so ago paid a first installment on a piano or an automobile and felt that he was rich. True, he was enjoying for the moment the pleasures of riches, but he was really not worth any more than now. He was enjoying dollars that never existed. The American farmer has lost billions of dollars—on paper. He can figure how much more his wheat of today would be worth if he could sell it at war price, but the actual riches, the wheat, is unchanged. During the war we borrowed an immense sum of money, promising to pay it back in the future, and we turned this credit into highly inflated dollars and lived riotously. We paid $500 on a $10,000 home and felt like we owned a $10,000 property. And now, as we look back, we feel that once we were rich and now we are poor. This frame of mind is largely responsible for the so-called buyers' strike of today. We have realized that we cannot go on forever, living on phantom dollars, but some of us cannot realize that actual goods today are just as valuable as ever.

BETTER RELIEVE PUBLIC

A number of Southern California cities are rushing delayed street paving projects in anticipation of the law which will relieve street railway companies from the obligation now imposed upon them to pave their rights of way. This legislation was enacted at the recent session of the California Legislature and has been approved by Governor Stephens. Street paving has been a heavy burden on the railway companies and they contended that, inasmuch as the bus lines were permitted to use the streets in competition with them without sharing any responsibility for paving, the railway companies should, in all fairness, be relieved of the burden. In the future property owners will be required to pave the entire width of streets on which railway tracks are laid.

By far, quite the most popular phrase uttered by President Harding since his occupancy of the White House was his cryptic "it must not be again," when he attended the ceremonies in honor of a shipload of soldier dead brought back from France. Already several poems have been written with entire lines reading, "It must not be again."

Occasionally one meets a young man who thinks being a live-wire means going out and shocking the town.

"Oh, you'll find the house light enough when you come to give your show, I reckon," replied the man who owned the hall and knew the town.

The Wicked Hen

An admiral said at a recent dinner: "There are too many people in our country who cannot bear the truth. We must pretend to these people that everything American is perfect. If we criticize, it must be criticism as mild as the chicken dealer's."

"Do you guarantee this hen?" I once asked a Providence chicken dealer.

"You bet I do, Admiral," said the man.

"Has she got no faults—no faults at all?" I asked cautiously.

"Well, Admiral," the chicken dealer confessed, "one fault she has and there ain't no use denyin' it—she will lay eggs on the Sabbath."

VARIOUS USES FOR

CANNED PRODUCTS

We depend nowadays upon canned products for many of the delicacies for the table. The improvements in the art of preserving soups, fish, meat, vegetables, and fruits have considerably lessened the cost of house-keeping, and also gives us every kind in season and out. The secret of the preservation of all kinds of foods in cans, is that the air is first exhausted, and then the can is hermetically sealed. The contents of canned foods should be turned out into a dish as soon as the can is opened. If only part of the contents is needed at the time, remove all the liquid from the solid, throw it away and put the solid in the refrigerator.

The several kinds of soups that may be bought in cans are numerous and very useful indeed to the busy housewife. Bouillon cubes are excellent for seasoning soups and gravies.

When using canned or potted meat the chief point to be considered is the fact that it should be kept cool. If it is opened on a very hot day the jelly surrounding the meat, which contains almost as much nourishment as the meat, would be melted and the food would look moist and disagreeable. Should the meat be required hot, heat in the can before opening.

Preserved fish is most popular and some delicious dishes are made from canned lobster, salmon, codfish, sardines and fish flakes. These with canned vegetables form the basis of many dishes that help to make meals appetizing by stimulating springtime dainties.

Canned fruits also are a never failing delight for salads and desserts, besides being most healthful and palatable. Dates, prunes, figs, raisins, etc., served as they come out of the packages, or stuffed with nuts, marshmallows, coconut, or added to salads and dessert are always welcome and give zest to the appetite.

When you have several persons to serve from a limited amount of canned peaches or apricots divide the fruit equally among the number to be served and arrange it in compots. Pour over fruit the following custard and serve when cool: To each cup fruit juice add the well-beaten yolk of one egg and three tablespoons sugar which has been mixed to a paste with one rounding teaspoon cornstarch and a little juice or milk. Cook till thick, then beat in the stiff white of an egg. One cup of juice made into custard will serve five or six generously.

Asparagus With Egg Sauce

One cup of asparagus, hard-cooked eggs and bread crumbs. Place in a greased fireproof dish a layer of chopped hard-cooked eggs, then a layer of bread crumbs, repeat layers of egg and asparagus. Then pour over all an egg sauce and sprinkle bread crumbs on the top, dot with butter and bake in oven till brown. Serve hot.

Tomato Salad

Boil three cupfuls of strained tomatoes, one bay leaf, one blade of mace, one sliced onion, one stalk of diced celery, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper for 20 minutes, then rub through a sieve. Dissolve one-fourth package of gelatine in one-fourth cupful of water, add to the tomato mixture and place in the refrigerator until firm. Cut in cubes, place on lettuce nests. Serve with the following dressing.

Cook one cupful of the strained tomato juice, the strained juice of one lemon and one cupful of sugar to a thick syrup, then pour the mixture slowly over the stiffly beaten white of one egg, beating all the time.

Tuna Fish Savory

Blend two tablespoonfuls of butter with three tablespoonfuls of flour in a saucepan over fire, then add two cupfuls of milk and stir and cook until thick and smooth; add one can of chopped pimientos, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt, pepper and paprika to taste, cook for five minutes, stirring all the time. Put in one can of flaked tuna fish and when thoroughly hot serve on squares of toast.

Date, Orange and Pineapple Salad

Line a salad dish with crisp lettuce leaves. Mix together stoned dates, orange sections, diced canned pineapples and a few diced canned peaches, and place in prepared dish.

Serve with the following dressing: Boil one cupful of the drained fruit juice with one-half cupful of water, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, and one-half cupful of sugar until the syrup spins a thread. Allow to cool then pour over the fruit, and allow to stand two hours before serving.

Cherry and Nut Salad

Pit one can of large white cherries, and into each cherry put a piece of English nut meat or a pecan nut meat. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves on individual plates; dress with mayonnaise sauce into which an equal amount of whipped evaporated milk has been stirred just before serving.

Miss Young in Late Picture

A man can forgive everything his wife tells him except those incidents which occurred before he married her. This is the theme around which "Hush," Clara Kimball Young's latest picture, is built. "If the skeleton in your closet is a pre-marriage false step, lock the door and tie the key around a whale's neck" is the philosophy of "Hush," and in addition to Miss Young has some very well-known motion picture players in its cast, including Kathlyn Williams, Jack Pratt and J. BECAME CONFUSED AND LOST WAY

Two old ladies, who were yesterday reported in Chief of Police Lampert's office as missing from the Mission Rest Home on San Fernando road, have returned to the home, according to the manager, who thanks the police of Glendale for having so willingly cooperated in locating them.

The two women are said to have gone out for their customary afternoon walk yesterday, but being strangers in the neighborhood, became con-

MARITAL LIFE HURT BY BAD GRAMMAR

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 23.—Cultivate your speech, married women, if you would be permanent wives.

Grammar is the best friend of the woman who wishes to retain her husband's love, according to Miss Aubrey Eaton, of the Chicago branch of the Y. W. C. A., whose classes on how to get and keep a husband have brought great happiness to her students, it is said.

Man is certain to be alienated by such expressions as, "Gee, ain't them waffles grand?" or "I ain't never drank such swell coffee," when they come from the rosy lips of his careless spouse.

"Poor grammar," Miss Eaton says, "has caused more domestic infelicities than all the burnt soup and hard-fused and missed their direction in returning to the rest home. After a vigilant search, local police officers last night succeeded in locating the two women.

boiled eggs in the world."

But there is a deeper reason for unhappiness brought about by listening to such perversions of English. This one who commits the transgressions against correct speech engenders in the mind of the other something which causes marital dissatisfaction.

Mrs. Van De Water's Views
Mrs. Virginia Terhune Van De Water, famous author, who has written many novels and stories treating of marital problems, told me today of her convictions on this subject.

"This touches upon one of my hobbies," she said earnestly. "I have a firm belief that the secret of a great deal of ill-happiness in marriage is the fact that one of the parties to the contract is ashamed of the other."

"Such secret shame kills love."

"For instance, suppose I know some woman who has a very presentable husband. She is proud of him and wishes to present him to me. He meets me, and in his speech may either double a negative or perhaps make a coarse remark. He has thereby wounded the sensibilities of the wife who wished him to make a good impression.

"I think if a man had to hear mangled English at the breakfast table provided he were an educated man, he would constantly have a feeling of shame for his blind folly in marrying beneath him."

"Poor grammar," with all due respect to the lady who used the phrase, does not exist. There is no such thing as 'poor grammar' or 'bad grammar.'

"Grammar is the standardization and the science of correct use of language."

"But I do not think an educated man unless caught when very young, would marry a woman who expressed herself poorly. Such speech offends the ear and the sense of good taste."

Men Often Make Wives Ashamed

"There is another point: Although many ill-bred women offend men with mistakes in English, many educated men offend their wives with slang and coarse stories sprinkled in conversation."

"I know a very charming woman who, in a fit of pique, married a man far beneath her. He has little self-control and, when excited or angry, lapses into the vernacular, with which he is familiar."

"Believing as I do that secret shame of one's life partner causes most of our marital infelicity, I always urge women to keep themselves up. There is a time in youth when it is very interesting to dress, to give attention to the accessories of one's toilette."

"Later on in life, when good looks often vanish, then it is an absolute necessity to look well. The office worker, any woman in business, realizes this."

"It is the business woman's duty to keep up. What does a man think, after working all day with women in his office who are as well and appropriately dressed as they are able, when he goes home to a woman who no longer takes any interest in her own appearance? He loves his wife and wishes to be proud of her, but she won't let him, and it hurts him by her own indifference. She has 'let go.'"

"What qualities do men like in women?" Mrs. Van De Water was asked.

Masculine Class Abhorred by Men

"The truly masculine, virile man likes femininity," she declared. "She may be a militant suffragist, an advanced feminist, and yet be the most feminine of women. She must have the feminine appeal. I never knew any man who admired the masculine type of woman, who affects collars, mannish hats and suits that resemble his own."

"I never had a daughter," Mrs. Van De Water said. "My children were boys. But I know what I would like in a daughter, the qualities I would tell any girl to cultivate."

"I should wish her to be like my own daughter-in-law, the girl my son married. She would possess self-reliance, an almost masculine grasp of a subject, and at the same time be capable of the depths of emotion; she should be gentle in speech and yet possess strength. She must never forget herself or let her speech become harsh."

"My ideal modern girl will dress modestly. That does not mean that it is necessary to avoid fashionable attire, only the extremes of style. I don't decry the short skirts, unless they are immodestly short; that applies to the décolleté gown also."

"FOUR HORSEMEN OF APOCALYPSE"

That Metro's spectacular picturization of Vicente Blasco Ibanez's widely read novel, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," will be given a special three-day engagement at the Palace Grand theater, was the announcement made today by Robert Jensen, manager of the popular playhouse. The film will open its run with the matinee on Sunday.

Unanimously endorsed by press, pulpit and public, and heralded as "the standard by which all future motion pictures will be judged," this super-spectacle is said to mark a new era in the motion picture industry. The film is classed as a picture with a soul—entertainment for the masses and the classes, containing a moral lesson for all, without being a preachment.

"The Four Horsemen" boasts a cast of 50 principals, and a supporting company of 12,500 people, and was produced at a cost of $1,000,000. The spectacle was produced by Rex Ingram as a Metro special de luxe, while June Mathis is credited with writing the scenario.

Owing to the unusual length of the spectacle, and the dramatic tensi of the story, making it vital that every one be seated at the start of the picture, there will be but two shows daily, starting at 2:30 and 8:15. The magnitude of the picture makes necessary a slight tilt in the admission prices, it is announced by Manager Jensen.

TENANTS SEEKING STORES IN BUILDING

Mr. Headley reports tenants for two of the stores in the block he is just completing at the southwest corner of Broadway and Orange street. The store at 200 West Broadway has been taken by Mr. Hambacher, who resides at Orange and Wilson, this city, for restaurant purposes. He it was who established the Pullman restaurant. The store adjoining at 202 West Broadway has been secured by Mr. Goodfellow for an up-to-date barber shop. He came to Glendale about six weeks ago, from Buffalo, N. Y., and is now residing at 515 North Maryland avenue. It is evident that he has lost no time in deciding upon the merits of Glendale from a business standpoint and he is optimistic about the future.

KELLER SCHOOL IS PREPARING FOR VAUDEVILLE OF SOCIETY

For the seventh season, Miss Pearl Keller is presenting the pupils of her school of dramatic art and dancing in their annual children's society vaudeville. It is the big event of the year in the school and a big event in the lives of those who take part.

This time it is to have the cosy setting of her own studio and will be given two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, June 29 and 30.

In anticipation of her needs in connection with this big affair, Miss Keller has enlarged her stage until it exceeds in dimensions that of the theater she has heretofore used. She has equipped it with curtains and all the accessories of an up-to-date stage and will also provide a curtained entrance for the little entertainers from the dressing rooms to the platform on which they will make their bows to patrons.

It is an improvement she has had in contemplation for some time but which has awaited the renewal of her lease. That business transaction has now taken place with an assurance that she will have the use of her present quarters for the next five years and the promise of changes for the further betterment of her auditorium.

The first night's performance for the most part will include the advanced pupils, although some of the little tots, who always delight an audience, will give numbers. Thursday evening the policy will be reversed and the smaller children will have their recital, with special numbers by the more mature dancers.

OAKLAND, Calif., June 23.—Four persons were injured, two perhaps fatally, when an automobile driven by Meade Bridgman, went over the edge of the tunnel road in Contra Costa county early today and crashed into a creek bed 350 feet below. Frederick Hobbs, Jr., and Miss Florence Hester, were the most seriously injured. The car turned over seven times in its descent.

FOR DORA HEWITT

Friends Surprise This Popular Young Woman With a Chest Full of Gifts

Miss Dora Hewitt was the guest of honor at a delightful little surprise party, when her friends gathered at the home of her parents on Gardena avenue Wednesday night to congratulate her on her approaching marriage and present her with a hope chest filled with beautiful and useful gifts. Her fellow nurses in the class recently graduated from the First Methodist hospital were there, the other guests being members of the junior and senior Epworth Leagues of the Central Avenue Methodist church, in which Miss Hewitt has always been very active and much beloved.

As her mother was in on the secret, the house was decorated for the occasion according to a green and gold color scheme. Refreshments were served.

Some time the latter part of the summer, Miss Hewitt will become the bride of Van B. Hoopes, who spent a year or more in Los Angeles, where the two met, and who for a time was president of the Epworth League of the Central church. During the war he was in the U. S. Navy, from which he was not released until last year. When free, he returned to his old home in Chester, Pa., where he now is.

BABY ENJOYS AIRPLANE THRILLS

(From the New York World)

Lots of children are just tickled to death if they can have a ride in a trolley, train or limousine, but none of those vehicles will do for little Lorraine Ericson, two and one-half-year-old daughter of Frithif Ericson, chief aviation engineer and designer in the war for the British government in the Toronto factories, skilled pilot, and wealthy manufacturer of Toronto.

"I want to go up—up—up," she said, as soon as she could talk. "Way up."

Lorraine was offered a ride in the train, in a motor car, but she would have no compromise.

"Up with daddy," she insisted, bursting into tears.

Lorraine did go "up with daddy," in his airplane, and since that time she has flown three thousand miles gone through a snowstorm across Lake Ontario, and had thrills which would thrill even an experienced airman.

Not Afraid in Air

"'Fraid" she repeated, when seen at a hotel in New York where she was staying with "daddy and mother." "Course not. I love it so much. I like to fly and daddy is going to show me New York from way up."

Mr. Ericson explained that Lorraine was born in New York and wanted to see the city. Would she take the subway, the bus, or even a taxi? Certainly not. She wanted to fly, and her father promised to drive her over the city, show her from the air the house, or possibly only the block, where she was born, point out Chinatown, the Woolworth building, the other skyscrapers and cathedrals, the parks, the Statue of Liberty and the harbor with all the big ships. And even to Lorraine, who thinks nothing of a flight, that is going to be a real treat.

Mr. Ericson has flown many years, and now he commutes daily to Toronto from his home in Valhalla, Ont., 35 miles away. His great hydroplane, Miss Toronto, is the champion of Canada. Often he takes trips to Detroit and Buffalo, and with him go Mrs. Ericson and Lorraine.

Flew Through a Snowstorm

Last October he found that he would have to make a quick trip to Buffalo by night and could not take the family. He phoned home, however, and told his wife that one of his pilots would call in the morning for her and the baby. The next day they started, and when they were far up, they ran into a blinding snowstorm. Lorraine didn't mind it a bit; in fact, she had the time of her young life and probably came near breaking a speed record. The 108 miles were covered in less than an hour, despite atmospheric difficulties.

Another trip to which Lorraine is looking forward will take place in July, when the Ericson family, at the invitation of Mayor Thompson, will fly to Chicago to attend a speed boat regatta in connection with the Pageant of Progress.

"The Wappings have a new car, I see."

"Yes, but Mrs. Gippings is taking some of the edge off Mrs. Wapping's triumph."

"How's that?"

"She's going about the neighborhood whispering that hateful word, 'installments.'" dispatch from Oppeln this afternoon. Martial law has been declared.

BERLIN, June 23.—France has sent a new warning to Germany regarding the attitude of General Hoefler, commander of the German volunteers in Upper Silesia, it was learned today. The note declared that General Hoefler's refusal to withdraw the Germans from the plebiscite area was frustrating the efforts of the allies to restore order.

TOKIO, June 23.—Land slides have added terror to conditions existing in Southern Japan where the worst floods in the history of the country are raging. On the basis of meager reports from the stricken districts today, it was estimated that the dead totals to date more than 300.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Harding today called upon congress to grant broad powers to the secretary of the treasury to arrange for the refunding of the allied debts and to fix the rates of interest to extend to the time of payment.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Breaking their deadlock, warring prohibition factions today declared a truce and the house judiciary committee reported favorably the Campbell bill, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of beer as medicine, which is identical with that introduced recently in the senate by Senator Willis, Republican of Ohio.

DENVER, Colo., June 23.—The Kansas industrial court was condemned and "governmental interference with the fundamental rights of organized workers" denounced, by the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Jack Johnson will not be paroled from Leavenworth in order that he may attend the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, Attorney-General Daugherty said today. The attorney general said, however, that Johnson has been a model prisoner and if a parole is asked on this basis he will consider it. Johnson's term expires five days after the date of the fight.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—General Charles G. Dawes of "Hell and Maria" fame, came to Washington today to take charge of the national budget system, and immediately things began to happen. Within a few hours after his arrival, General Dawes had held a long conference with the President, selected the four men he is allowed as assistants, criticized congress and announced that he was going to "conscript" about 30 or 40 American business men.

CHICAGO, June 23.—One negro outlaw was killed and two policemen were wounded today in a battle with three desperadoes on Grand boulevard, where the police had stopped the men to question them. One of the negroes was captured, following the revolver battle, while the third escaped. Patrolmen John Hogan and Thomas Daniels said they had commanded the negroes to throw up their hands, but instead they began firing. Hogan was struck in the neck and Daniels in the stomach.

CHICAGO, June 23.—As his wife and son were sitting on a rear porch, waiting for Tony Marchese, owner of a saloon, to come home, Marchese was riddled with shotgun slugs and killed early today by unidentified men in an auto. They are believed to have killed Marchese in revenge in a feud. He was slain directly in front of his home. Mrs. Marchese ran to the sidewalk and found her husband dead. The car sped away. An undertaker found that 17 slugs entered Marchese's body.

PARIS, June 23.—The trusting belief of Lawrence Barler, a San Francisco manufacturer, in American honesty, cost him $6000, he told the police today. Barler said he became acquainted with two men who claimed to be Americans. The alleged Americans persuaded Barler to leave his purse with them as an indication of confidence. Then they disappeared. The police are looking for the swindlers.

ADMIRAL SIMS WILL EXPLAIN FAMOUS SPEECH MADE IN LONDON

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—It took Rear Admiral William S. Sims just two minutes by the clock today to "explain" to Secretary of the Navy Denby his famous "jackass" speech in London which resulted in his leave being cancelled and his being peremptorily ordered to return to the United States.

Admiral Sims informed the secretary in one of the shortest interviews on record, that he had been misquoted by the press in the reports of his speeches cabled to this country, whereupon Secretary Denby asked him to reduce his explanation to writing and that ended the "carpet session" from a personal standpoint at least.

At the conclusion of the short session, Secretary Denby received newspaper reporters and said:

"Admiral Sims denied the statements attributed to him. He said he had been incorrectly quoted. I gave him a written memorandum setting forth those statements and asked him to inform me in writing where he was incorrectly quoted and to tell me, if he could, what he did say in that speech."

Secretary Denby would give no hint as to the nature of his future action in the Sims case, and he would add nothing to the brief statement made at the close of the interview.

DEGREE OF D.D. FOR B. DUDLEY SNUDDEN

The many friends of Rev. B. Dudley Snudden who at one time served the First Methodist church of this city as pastor and was succeeded by Rev. Chas. Scott, when he gave up his charge to engage in war work, will be interested to know that this afternoon he is to receive from the University of Southern California, the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. He and Rev. Clyde M. Crist, who is also a D. D., were in college together and are rejoicing together over their common good fortune in being thus distinguished.

Dr. Snudden is now pastor of the First Methodist church in South Pasadena.

THEATERS

Palace Grand

The latest film star added to the William Fox list, Harold Goodwin, will be seen today at the Palace Grand theater, in a picturization of the late Mrs. Southworth's novel "Ishmael." The photoplay is entitled "Hearts of Youth" and is described by the producer as "a tale of mystery and vengeance"—a description sufficiently accurate, as any one who has read the novel can testify.

Here is a story in which the element of mystery grips the interest at the very beginning, and the element of vengeance, straightening out the tangles in several lives, leads to a smashing climax. It is a story which should screen admirably, with a chief role that should fit young Goodwin admirably.

A two-reel comedy special, "Scrapily Married," is an additional attraction.

Glendale Theatre

"Hush," the film-story in which Clara Kimball Young has achieved a distinctively triumphant success, is shown for the last time at the Glendale theater today.

Here is a play which gives her the widest possible latitude for the expression of histrionic versatility, and she has made the most of the opportunity afforded her by Sada Cowan's fascinating story. Miss Cowan, who wrote "Hush," will be remembered as the author of "Why Change Your Wife?" etc.

Aside from the unusual interest of the story, there are other points which contribute to make "Hush" the highest form of idealized motion picture entertainment. The lavishness of scenic investiture such as characterizes all of Harry Garson's productions, the excellence of the supporting cast, and the unusually fine photography are added reasons why "Hush" is one of the season's most brilliant photoplays.

If you are one of those who enjoy motion pictures of the finer variety—if you enjoy brilliant acting, beautiful scenes, and artistically directed photodramas, you will thoroughly enjoy this picture.

"My dear, I was so sorry you could not be out last night to hear Dr. Bimbazze's lecture on the 'Higher Mysticism and the Spiritual Reality.' What was the matter?"

The

is loath to recognize or resent ignorant dicking criticism of its motives and actions, for it has faith in that the high-minded, fair-minded citizens of Glendale will understand and rightly judge for themselves as to the merits of the League's straightforward, clearly expressed contentions and expositions.

The League believes in politics—but in clean politics only. It intends to allow no reflection to be cast on its own name through its own actions. Therefore its refusal to be led into belittling arguments.

However, there are times when the public interest demands explanations and corrections, and the League feels that such a time has now arrived.

To the new organization, formed in South Glendale with headquarters on North Brand boulevard, must be attributed the first dip into questionable methods to attain selfish ends. The malicious attack by this small group of South Glendale malcontents on Messrs. Stephenson and Lapham is strangely inconsistent when it is understood that these same people manifested no scruples as to supporting these very same candidates (who they now seek to besmirch) if the League would but accept a certain candidate of their choice at the expense of one the League had already endorsed. This the League refused to do, and it now considers itself well justified.

The League wishes to express its confidence in that the great majority of South Glendale's citizens are far-sighted and fair-minded and will not give their support to a "knockers" syndicate.

It is to be regretted that such citizens as Dru Nicoles, W. R. Phelon, A. H. Lapham and H. P. Courtney should be so maligned and their laudable interest in our city's affairs be attributed to their connection as employees with corporations they so creditably serve.

The League believes our citizens understand the meaning of this kind of campaigning, and it also feels that its candidates will lose nothing thereby, for it believes that these unjust and slanderous attacks will act as BOOMERANGS. Prove it by a

JURY IN DAVIS CASE DISAGREE

REDDING, June 23.—George Dewey Davis, Seattle world war veteran who has spent several months in jail pending trial on a charge of perjury, was to have secured his freedom under bail today, following the failure of a jury which heard his case to agree. The jury stood eight to four for his acquittal throughout six hours' balloting.

Friends promised to furnish the $2300 necessary to secure his release today. His second trial will be held in September. Gerald Callahan, also of Seattle was to have been tried on the same charge next Monday, but his case has also been continued until September. In each instance the prosecution grew out of testimony given in the Norris murder case here.

PLANS FOR NEW OFFICE BUILDING

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Citizens' Building corporation last night, plans and specifications for the new office building to be erected on the east side of Brand boulevard, between Harvard and Broadway, were approved and it was decided to open bids on the construction work early in July so that the building may be gotten under way before the 10th of that month.

The plans call for a two-story structure with 51 feet frontage and a depth of 110 feet. The lower floor will be finished for one or two store rentals with marble entrance and stairway leading to the second floor, part of which will be given over to a spacious banquet auditorium and kitchen.

Office space to include the entire front of the second story will be occupied by the chamber of commerce.
